CPME

The Standing Committee of European Doctors (CPME) represents national medical associations across Europe. We are committed to contributing the medical profession’s point of view to EU and European policy-making through pro-active cooperation on a wide range of health and healthcare related issues.
CPME’s policies are shaped through the expertise provided by our membership of national medical associations, representing physicians across all medical specialties all over Europe and creating a dialogue between the national and European dimensions of health and healthcare.
CPME

Policy areas which CPME is active in include:

- Professional Practice
- Pharmaceutical Policy
- Prevention and Public Health
- Active and Healthy Ageing
Medical Education & Training

- High quality education & training is fundamental for high quality healthcare.
- Professional knowledge, skills and competences must be up-dated continuously.
- High quality education & training at all levels must respect ethical codes and enshrine up-to-date evidence-base for practice and treatment.
Health Inequalities

- Health inequalities can affect health status and access to healthcare.
- There is the moral and ethical obligation to counteract avoidable health inequalities.
- Health inequalities may be caused by a variety of factors, including gender.
